

East York Probus Club Privacy Policy- May 2024

As part of its membership application process, The East York PROBUS Club (“the Club”, EYPC) collects personal information from each applicant. That information consists of a name, address, phone number, email address and an emergency contact.

The Club may also collect:

- photos of a member, either for solo identification or as a participant of a Club function
- any other information that the Club may require or happen to acquire from time to time.

That information is stored and made available by the Club to all members in various ways, including in the Member Directory that accessible on the Club website.

Club Rights and Obligations

The Club shall not disclose any personal information of a member or of any membership applicant to any other organization or third party without the consent of the member, other than to PROBUS Canada, if deemed necessary by Probus Canada.

The Club shall restrict access to its website only to its members except in instances where the Club determines that is reasonable allow access to a non-member for purposes of a technical matter (e.g. to a website provider for the improvement of the site) or sharing of website expertise with another PROBUS Club.

The Privacy Policy shall be posted on the Club website. It is subject to change by the Management Team and any such changes shall be posted on the Club website.

Member Rights and Obligations

A member consents to the collection of any personal information requested or acquired by the Club and to the management of that information by the Club in accordance with its Privacy Policy.

A member shall have access to the Club website only by way of a personal email address and password and shall not allow others to share that access. A member shall not allow any non-member to access the Club website.

Providing a distinctive operating email address is a condition of being a member. By joining the Club and providing an email address, a member consents to receive messages electronically from the Club.

A member shall not disclose to anyone who is not a member any personal information of another member or membership applicant that is only available on the website or other Club records.

The membership directory is the sole property of the Club, and no member shall use or disseminate it in whole or part without express prior permission of the Club and shall not use it for any commercial or private purposes or for the promotion of any non-Club activity, enterprise or purpose.

Any member registering for an event consents to the sharing of that registration information with the other registrants for that event and, where reasonably required, with the event host, and further consents to provide a phone number or other contact information where requested by the organizer or convenor of that event.

Anyone who joins the Club or renews membership in the Club is deemed by such action to accept and be bound by this Privacy Policy.